

Ruling May Settle Coast Transit Strike

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Settlement of San Francisco's city-wide transit strike may hinge on two court rulings expected today.

Superior Judge Albert C. Woltenberg promised a decision on actions by both the city—operator of the municipal railway system—and the striking AFL Carmen's Union.

Now in its third day, the shutdown has forced about 800,000 daily riders to walk, drive, hitchhike or stay home.

Traffic congestion was expected to ease today with most businesses and offices closed for Washington's Birthday.

Containing a strike against the city is illegal, the railway management seeks a restraining order against picketing by the 1,300 strikers. This would let 1,100 CIO carmen return to work.

The CIO is refusing to cross AFL picket lines. The AFL suit charges the city violated its contract by demanding employees spread their eight working hours over more than 10 hours.

Mrs. Richardson Called 'Loyal Communist'

Mrs. Mary Markward, 30-year-old Chesterbrook, (Va.) housewife and former undercover agent investigating Communism for the FBI, yesterday put the finger on Mrs. Marie Richardson as a leading Communist here in 1943 and 1944.

Mrs. Richardson, colored, a former Howard University student once was employed in the office of the university dean, is charged with eight counts of concealing Communist affiliations while she was seeking employment at the Library of Congress.

Appearing as a star prosecution witness in the District Court trial of Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Markward declared that, at a Communist Party meeting here in 1944, Mrs. Richardson was described as "a loyal and trusted party member."

The description was made, Mrs. Markward said, in connection with an appeal for funds for Mrs. Richardson, who was said to have been ill in Freedmen's Hospital at that time.

At another point, Assistant United States Attorney William E. Hitz produced a card, which Mrs. Markward identified as Mrs. Richardson's registration and membership card in the party.

Mrs. Markward testified that when Mrs. Markward is expected to resume her testimony.
